CHURCH DOOR LOUNGERS.-The following from the Norfolk Banner applies with equal force to other places besides the "City by the Sea," the suggestions losing none of their torce from the master of expression :

"Sicce the interesting allusion to this subject to a firmer number of the Norfelk Banner, to of worship has not increased in proportion to the estensible demand therefor. The young ladies who purctually attend divine service are more numerous than ever, while the young gentlemen of pious prec'ivities mas'er a much stronger force in front of the churches than has over been seen in Norfolk, since the succeeder of Lord Cornwallis at Yorktown. If the city shou'd contions to grow in population as rapid-'y as we have every reason to expect, without a corresponding augmentation of ordinary religious facilities, the pulpits will have to be put in commucication with the curbstone, by means of some improved system of telephones, in order that the Gesper may be presched to every oresture to accordance with Biblical command. The pay ments should also be much widened to afford additional standing room to the viciniey of the Sanctuary, and a large number of caresp camp-stools turnished for the benefit of those young gentlemen whose souls have been beretofore nourished at such a fearful tax on the soles of their feet. As the intended beneficiaries of these cheritable reflections are all fornished with Sandey umbrellas, the City Councils need not make any appropriation for that particular object, and the young ladies, for evident ressons, might leave their parasols at home. So mote it be !'
